A Regional Forum for a Global Market

Located in the North Caspian region, at the heart of Central Asia's dynamic oil and gas industry, the Atyrau Oil & Gas exhibition and OilTech Atyrau conference give global energy companies direct access to the region's senior commercial and technical operators.

OILTECH ATYRAU

The event serves local operators and suppliers in the resource-rich North Caspian region, and major international oil and gas companies looking to do business in the region. The event's strategic significance, hydrocarbon wealth and favourable investment climate provides numerous commercial opportunities for both international and domestic oil and gas companies.

The Exhibition

OILTECH
ATYRAU

The Regional Atyrau Oil & Gas Exhibition is a key event for the region's oil, gas and petrochemical operators. The proximity to productive oil fields in the region, abundant oil and gas reserves and favourable market conditions have attracted increasing numbers of international exhibitors to the show.

The number of exhibitors increased by 20% compared with 2010, reflecting the growing business opportunities in the local oil and gas market in Atyrau. Domestic companies made up 34% of all exhibitors with a further 35% from Russia and 31% from the rest of the world.

Exhibition Facts*:

Total exhibition space (net):	2,000 m ²
Exhibitors:	72

The Conference

OILTECH
ATYRAU

The 6th Regional Petroleum Technology Conference (OilTech Atyrau) was first launched in 2007 to meet the needs of senior technical professionals operating at the front line of oil and gas activity. The conference examines cutting edge technologies and innovative practices needed for exploration and production.

OilTech Atyrau features expert presentations by senior managers of leading energy companies, Ministerial representatives, technical experts and front-line industry specialists.

A range of technical workshops, plenary sessions and round table discussions facilitate dialogue on the key topics of the programme. The conference also incorporates multiple networking opportunities and events.
